

Amgrow Wettasoil

Granular Soil Wetter

Saves Water and Helps plants grow better.

Wettasoil Granular is an easy to use wetting agent for gardens, lawns and potted plants. Each granule is impregnated with a concentrated low toxicity wetting agent and seaweed extract.

With every watering or each time it rains, the wetting agent is released from the granules assisting the water to penetrate and spread through dry soil or potting mix.

Similarly, the water carries the seaweed extract through the soil. Seaweed contains essential minerals and growth promoters and has a positive impact on soil health.

The slow release action of Wettasoil Granular lasts for up to twelve months, but to achieve best results, the product should be reapplied every six months. This makes rainfall and watering work more effectively, eliminating dry spots, reducing plant water stress and creating a healthier soil environment.

This saves water and helps the plants to grow more effectively.

Wettasoil Granular will not harm pets, soil or the environment.

How to apply Wettasoil Granular.

It could not be easier. Simply sprinkle the granules, at the rates shown, over the area to be treated. No sticky liquids, no mixing, no fuss. Wettasoil granules can be simply applied to the surface of existing garden beds or can be dug into the garden as new beds are made.

Apply the granules every six months or when water does not penetrate easily.

Applying before periods of rain will assist in building up reserves of soil moisture for the dryer periods.

Wettasoil Granular should be applied to mulched areas. While mulches assist in retaining moisture, they can become water repellent. The addition of granules to the mulch will ensure that the water penetrates the mulch and reaches the soil.
